The Daily Press.

HONGKONG, November 14th 1898.

THE speech delivered by the Marquis of SALISBURY at the Lord Mayor's banquet at the Guildhall on the 9th instant, a résumé of which by Reuter we publish in another column, is very reassuring with regard to the settlement of the Fashoda difficulty with France. The common sense and good judgment of the French Ministers have, the noble lord tells us in effect, saved two great nations from becoming involved in a war which, however it ended, could not have failed to prove most disastrous in the sense of causing great loss of valuable life and vast waste of material resources. It is satisfactory to have such an assurance from such a source, the very fountain head, the Foreign Minister himself, though we had already received sufficient information to convince us that the most imminent danger was over. Now that the crisis is past, we have no desire to utter one word of undue reproach or disparagement to France or to the French Government, in this matter. Unhappily for France, her Ministries during the past quarter of a century have proved singularly shortlived, and their memories have not proved more enduring. To a certain extent there has been a continuity of policy at the Quai d'Orsay, but it has been carried on by such a rapidly shifting succession of statesmen that perhaps there may be some excuse for lapses which would not have been pardonable had the same hand controlled French foreign affairs during a long term of years. The crises which are continually arising in France and entailing a fresh shuffling of the cards by the party which, by virtue of its numbers (the moderate Republicans), alone can assume the administration are greatly to be deprecated, as they beget a spirit of unrest in the country, which in turn gives rise to a policy of adventure and aggression abroad, which is as unprofitable to the French people as it is annoying and irritating to their neighbours. Great Britain, out of pure love of peace and a dislike to make herself offensive, preserved a strict neutrality while France invaded and annexed Tonkin and Annam, even extending to her no little sympathy when she became involved in a conflict with China; looked quietly on while French forces subjugated the Malagasies and annexed that people's great island; permitted the cession by China of territory on the Siam frontier which had been given up by us to form a neutral state; conceded many points in Africa where our interests and those of our restless neighbour clashed; and allowed her to practically absorb Tunisia and impose her own restrictive tariff, thereby placing British trade at a great disadvantage. All this, too, without any stipulation for a reciprocal amiability with regard to British possessions and trade in other parts of the world. Thus, we failed to exact a settlement, in our favour, of the long standing trouble with regard to the Newfoundland fisheries; neglected to insist upon the cessation of the shipment of convicts to New Caledonia; and we did not press for acknowledgment of our status in Egypt. We had been long-suffering, but the limit of endurance, like the end to all things, was reached at last at Fashoda, and it was left to France to find the way out of the coil she had created.

There was never any animosity to France in this matter, though there was much honest indignation. We trust that will be laid as quickly as it arose, and that the peace which has endured between the two near neighbours in Western Europe for upwards of seventy years will last for another like period. Better still if the poet TENNYSON'S vision be fulfilled in the next century and

> "The war drums throbb'd no longer and the battle flags were furl'd
> In the Parliament of man, the Federation of the world."

That time, however, is unfortunately not yet in sight, and we fear that even the most optimistic observer would fail at the present moment, notwithstanding the Czar's disarmament proposal, to discover any cheering signs of its imminence. Lord SALISBURY most clearly has little faith in the approach of such a happy condition. The noble lord is a well known pessimist, but in this instance his pessimistic utterances will be generally endorsed. He thinks the general temper of the world far from pacific, and with reason. There is a keen struggle to secure fresh fields to exploit, fresh markets to enter, and there is a great and growing jealousy of Great Britain, her vast trade, and her naval predominance, which may one day eventuate in a formidable combination against her. Even the entry of the United States upon the field of European politics is regarded by the British Premier as a grave event and not conducive to peace, although he thinks it likely to in the long run benefit British interests. There is here a not very remote reference, we take it, to American colonial interests and the evident determination of Great Britain to stand by her eldest born and see that she gets her rights and fair play. Probably Lord SALISBURY sees in a vision of the future the Anglo-Saxon nations standing shoulder to shoulder in a desperate struggle with some other combination of Powers, or perhaps hopes for an alliance that in its timely inception may avert the necessity of any appeal to arms. But in the meantime he is of opinion that Britannia must stand ready, prepared for all emergencies, with her hand on her sword hilt, and her Navy invincible and alert. The axiom that the best way to preserve peace is to be prepared for war was never truer than it is to-day, and though such insurance is costly it is well worth the money for the security it creates.

Commander Hastings had 15 more men before him on Saturday charged with gambling. They had been arrested the previous evening by Chief Detective Inspector Hanson and a staff of men in San To lane, West Point. The two keepers of the house were each fined $15 and the rest $2 each.

A notification was issued by the Cable Companies on Saturday to the effect that telographic communication with the islands of Negros and Cebu is entirely interrupted. The wires in the island of Panay are also interrupted but telegrams for Iloilo are forwarded across the interrupted section by occasional steamers from Capiz.

A coolie was on Saturday, at the Magistracy, sentenced to two months' imprisonment for stealing two bottles of whisky from the Pharmacy. John Newberry, an assistant, deposed to seeing prisoner go into the office the previous evening and put something into a box, on looking into which he saw the two bottles of whisky produced.

The following telegrams have been received from Manila:—"Manila, 11th November, 5.30 p.m. Typhoon east of Manila moving slowly towards W.N.W." "Manila, 12th November, 4 a.m. Typhoon entered Luzon in given direction. Will cross close to North Manila before noon." "Manila Observatory, 13th November, 7 a.m. Typhoon N.N.W. of Manila, probably recurving interior Luzon."

We regret to learn that a telegram has been received announcing the death of Mr. Julius Kramer, a partner in the firm of Arnhold, Karberg & Co. The sad event occurred at Heidelberg on the 11th inst. Mr. Kramer was for several years the resident partner of the firm in Hongkong and was much respected. He went home about two years ago. The flag at the German Club was flying at half-mast on Saturday.

Consul-General Wildman is in receipt of a cablegram from General Otis, Military Governor of Manila, that the Spanish steamer Buenos Aires, which it was reported had been seized by Admiral Dewey, was permitted to clear from Manila on the afternoon of 7th inst. for Iloilo and Singapore with nine hundred sick Spanish prisoners en route for Spain. There are at present two United States men-of-war in the harbour of Iloilo.

At the annual meeting of the Hongkong and Shanghai Bank held in February, 1896, an announcement that the services of Mr. T. Jackson as Chief Manager had been secured for a further term of three years was received with much satisfaction by the shareholders. That term is now nearing its expiry, but we understand Mr. Jackson has consented to prolong it for another year and strong efforts will be made to induce him to prolong it still further.

The American papers have of late been making frequent reference to a concession said to have been obtained by an American syndicate for a railway from Haukow to Hongkong. The syndicate in question has obtained the concession for a railway from Hankow to Canton, and, we believe, made strong efforts to get the concession for the Canton and Kowloon line, but without success. The concession for the Canton-Kowloon line has been in effect given to a syndicate represented by Messrs. Jardine, Matheson & Co. The prospect of the immediate construction of this line has given rise to a little activity in dealings in land at Kowloon.

At a regular meeting of the Ararat Lodge of Royal Ark Mariners, attached to the Eothen Lodge of Mark Masons, No. 264, E.C., held on the 10th instant, B.C. Wor. Bro. J. Bryant was duly installed into the chair of C.N. for the ensuing year, the installation ceremony being performed by P.C. Wor. Bro. G. B. Jordan assisted by P.C. Wor. Bro. W. C. H. Hastings and P.C. Wor. Bro. A. O'D. Gourdin. Wor. Bro. Bryant, C.N., then appointed and invested his officers for the ensuing year as follows:—J.P.C., Wor. Bro. A. O'D. Gourdin; S.P.C., Wor. Bro. W. C. H. Hastings; Scribe, Bro. Jas Lochead; Treasurer, Bro. J. R. Grimble; S.D., Bro. A. G. Dymond; J.D., Bro. C. W. Spriggs; D.C., Bro. W. H. Woolley; Guardian, Bro. J. A. Wheal; Warder, Bro. J. Maxwell.

On Saturday evening a concert in aid of the Hongkong Schools Athletic Sports fund was given in the Theatre Royal. Though several of the vocalists whose names appeared on the programme were absent, an enjoyable evening was spent, thanks chiefly to the exertions of Messrs. Ward and Williams, whose comic songs and duets were the feature of the evening. Mr. R. D. Thomas Sang "Queen of my heart" and "The 7th Royal Fusiliers" and Mr. G Simmers "The mighty deep." Instrumental solos were contributed by Messrs. A. D. Sharp (cornet), E. J. Rumbold ('cello), and J. T. Clatworthy (banjo), and Mr. W. A. Allen contributed a humorous recitation, "My first and last appearance on any stage." The Band of the King's Own was in attendance and played several selections during the evening.

At the Magistracy on Saturday a shop coolie named Mui Hong was charged with assaulting Lai Chik Lai, a hawker 14 years old, of Lower Lascar Row. Complainant said that on Friday afternoon he went to defendant's shop at 345, Queen's Road Central, to buy some oil, taking a bottle with him. He paid 1½ cents to defendant. The latter wanted 16 and snatched the bottle from him and hit him on the right side of the head. Complainant's head was bound up and his right shoulder was drenched with blood. An Indian constable said he saw the assault committed and arrested defendant. Inspector Gillies, who was in the charge room when complainant and defendant were brought in, said the cut was certainly not a clear cut with a knife. Defendant said nothing then about a knife having been used. Defendant now informed the Magistrate that complainant drew a knife and tried to stab him. He caught hold of his hand and he cut himself. Mui Chung, accountant at 345, Queen's Road Central, corroborated and was fined $25, or six weeks, for lying, the other man being sentenced to 42 days and also ordered to pay $10 compensation, or a month.

REUTER'S TELEGRAMS.

[SUPPLIED TO THE "DAILY PRESS."]

LONDON, 10th November,

LORD SALISBURY ON THE SITUATION.

Lord Salisbury, speaking at the Lord Mayor's banquet at the Guildhall, said that the country had lately had to face the danger of war, but happily the trouble had been settled owing to the great judgment and sense of France. Surprise was expressed that our preparations for war had not suddenly ceased, but it was impossible to cease such preparations suddenly. One reason for not stopping them is the present general temper of the world and the dangers surrounding us. The entry of the United States among the European Powers is a grave event, and one not conducive to peace, although likely to benefit British interests. Lord Salisbury then dilated on the fearful rapidity with which war breaks out, and said that unless our great Colonial Maritime empire was adequately defended by our Navy our power may suddenly come clattering down. Our armaments imply no dangerous enterprises, we abhor war, but must transmit our Empire unimpaired to posterity.

PRESS COMMENTS ON LORD SALISBURY'S SPEECH.

The newspapers agree that the future is full of dangers, and endorse Lord Salisbury's opinion for the necessity of complete preparedness.

CRICKET.

OVER 28 v. UNDER 28.

By the kind permission of Captain Sir E. Chichester and officers of H. M. S. Immortalité, their band were in attendance on the Cricket Ground on Saturday afternoon, when an interesting match between the seniors and the juniors took place. In our issue on Saturday we stated that the "under 28" were very strong whilst the "old 'uns" were a stiff fighting crowd who even if defeated would die game. The veterans went in first, and made a fair start, 25 having been scored before the first wicket (Sercombe Smith) fell. Two were down for 31, three for 39, four for 53, five for 77, six for 86, seven for 106, eight for 130, nine for 139 and ten for 144. Captain Langhorne, it will be seen, was the top man. His 33 included four 4's, five 2's, and seven singles. Mr. Gill came next with 30, which was made up of one 6, four 4's, three 2's and two singles. The juniors, who commenced to bat immediately after tiffin, soon showed that they were two strong for their opponents. Lieut. Campbell, who was one of the first couple sent to the wickets, was himself responsible for 104 not out, his score including thirteen 4's, one three, fourteen 2's, and twenty-one singles. When the stumps were drawn 217 had been scored for six wickets. Scores:

THE NEW BISHOP OF VICTORIA.

THE ENTHRONEMENT CEREMONY.

The interest in the arrival of the English mail last week was enhanced by the fact that she carried among her passengers the Right Rev. Joseph Charles Hoare, M.A., who has been appointed to succeed the Rev. J. S. Burdon, D.D., as Bishop of the diocese of Victoria. Dr. Burdon took charge of the diocese in 1873, following the Rev. C. B. Alford, D.D., and resigned in 1895, so that a considerable interval has elapsed before the filling up of the vacancy.

The enthronement took place in the cathedral church of S. John the Evangelist on Saturday afternoon in the presence of a large congregation. The form of service was, on the suggestion of the Bishop himself, similar to that used at the recent enthronement of the Bishop of Newcastle, a form which his lordship considers has less "law" and more "worship" about it than any other he has seen. He also expressed a strong desire that the laity should take a formal part in the welcome given to their Bishop. Accordingly the Church Body formed part of the procession and the Chief Justice (Sir J. W. Carrington, C.M.G.) acted as Pro-Chancellor. The chaplain of the Cathedral, R. F. Cobbold, was installant, and the Rev. Ll. Lloyd filled the post of Bishop's Chaplain.

The service commenced at three o'clock, by which time the sacred edifice was well filled. The clergy robed in their vestry at 2.50 and then proceeded to that of the choir, with whom they passed on the north side of the church and awaited the Bishop in the West Porch, where the Church Body had already assembled. Immediately on his lordship's arrival the procession moved up the nave—the choir singing "The Church's one Foundation"—in the following order:—The Cathedral choir; the Church Body (Mr. T. Jackson, Hon. R. D. Ormsby, and Mr. MacEwen), the missionary clergy (the Revs. M. Fong and A. G. Walker); the seamen's chaplains (Revs.—A. Iliff and J. H. France); the Garrison chaplain (Rev. G. R. Vallings); the naval chaplains (Revs. G. M. Tichborne, T. Kane, C. G. Gordan-Vaudin, E. G. Call, F. Flynn, and J. H. Moriarty); the Pro-Chancellor; the Chaplain of the Cathedral; the Lord Bishop; and the Bishop's Chaplain. The Bishop took his place at the fald-stool outside the choir, his Chaplain being on his left and the Cathedral Chaplain on his right.

Evensong was then sung, the Rev. G. R. Vallings intoning the prayers. The proper psalms were cxxii and cxiv. The first lesson (Zechariah iv.) was read by the Rev. J. H. Moriarty. The Bishop at the fald-stool then presented to the Chaplain of the Cathedral the Letter Commendatory of the Archbishop of Canterbury, and said:—"Reverend Sir, I present unto you this Letter Commendatory of His Grace the Archbishop of Canterbury, and beseech you that you will install and enthrone me Bishop of the Bishopric of Victoria." To this the Chaplain replied:—"Let the Archbishop's letter be read." The Pro-Chancellor having read the letter and having handed it to the Chaplain, the latter said:—"I receive this Letter Commendatory, and with great readiness will show regard to it." The letter reads as follows:—

"To all Christian people to whom these presents shall come, and more particularly to the clergy and laity of the Communion of the Church of England resident within Her Majesty's possession of Victoria and the isle of Hongkong and to the Archdeacons and Canons of the Archdeaconries and Canonries founded in the cathedral church of St. John, Victoria, in the said isle of Hongkong, and to the officers of the said cathedral and to the clergy and laity of the aforesaid communion resident in the Empire of China to the south of the twenty-eighth degree of north latitude and in particular to the Naval and Military Chaplains for the time being within the aforesaid limits: Greeting.

"Whereas by a mandate under the sign manual and signet of Her Majesty the Queen bearing date the twentieth day of May in the year of our Lord, one thousand and eight hundred and ninety eight. After therein reciting that we had humbly applied to Her Majesty for Her Majesty's licence by warrant under Her sign manual and signet authorizing and empowering us to consecrate The Reverend Joseph Charles Hoare, M.A., to be a Bishop, to the intent that he should exercise his functions in one of Her Majesty's possessions abroad. We are authorized and empowered to consecrate the said Joseph Charles Hoare to be a bishop. And whereas in pursuance of the said mandate and authority we, assisted by the Lord Bishop of London, the Lord Bishop of Winchester, the Lord Bishop of Peterborough and other Bishops, did on Saturday, the eleventh day of June, one thousand eight hundred and ninety eight, being the Feast of Saint Barnabas, in the Cathedral Church of Saint Paul in London, duly consecrate the said Joseph Charles Hoare to be a Bishop.

"Now therefore we, the Right Honourable and Most Reverend Frederick by Divine Providence Lord Archbishop of Canterbury, Primate of all England and Metropolitan, do by these presents pronounce, decree, and declare that the said Right Reverend Joseph Charles Hoare is invested with all authority Episcopal and Ordinary within the limits herein before by us specified to the end that he may exercise within the same limits all spiritual functions appertaining to his office under the style and designation of Bishop of Victoria in Hongkong.

"Given at Lambeth under our hand and Archiepiscopal seal this tenth day of September in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and ninety eight and in the second year of our translation.

"(Signed) F. CANTUAR."

The Bishop was then conducted to the Episcopal Throne, and the Installant, causing him to sit therein, held him by the right hand and said:—"I, Rowland Francis Cobbold, Chaplain of this Cathedral Church, acting according to the Letter Commendatory of His Grace the Lord Archbishop of Canterbury, do install and enthrone you, Right Reverend Father, into the Chair Episcopal of this Cathedral Church, and do place you in this Seat in the Name of our Lord Jesus Christ. Amen. The Lord preserve thy going out and thy coming in, from this time forth for evermore." Amen.

The service continued as below:—

"Then shall the Bishop request the prayers for the Congregation, for which silence shall be kept for a space.

Then shall follow:—

Chaplain.—O Lord, save Thy Servant our Bishop,
Choir.—Who putteth his trust in Thee

Chaplain.—Send him help from Thy holy place.
Choir.—And evermore mightily defend him.

Chaplain.—Be Thou to him, O Lord, a strong tower,
Choir.—From the face of his enemy.

Chaplain.—O Lord hear our prayer;
Choir.—And let our cry come unto Thee.

Chaplain.—The Lord be with you;
Choir.—And with thy spirit.

Let us pray.

Grant, we beseech Thee, O Lord, unto Thy Servant, the Bishop of this Diocese, that he, by his preaching and doing always those things that be rightful, may edify the souls of Thy people committed to his charge; and at last may, with them, receive of Thee, the Good and Faithful Shepherd, the recompense of eternal glory, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

O Almighty God, the Disposer of all duties and the bountiful Bestower of all goodness, Who hast appointed divers orders in Thy Church; we humbly beseech Thee that Thou wilt vouchsafe to strengthen Thy Servant, Joseph Charles, appointed to govern the Church and Diocese of Victoria, with the succour of Thy Grace, that he may be faithful unto Thee in this his Pastoral Office, both in word and deed, to the glory of Thy Name, and the edification and right ruling of Thy Church, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen."

Evensong was then resumed. Bruce Steane's "Magnificat" was sung. The Rev. J. H. Moriarty read the second lesson (S. John xxi., 15-18). Bruce Steane's "Nunc Dimittis" followed, and then the anthem "I will lift up mine eyes" (Clarke Whitfield) was sung, Mrs. Osborne and Miss Bain singing the short duet for first and second sopranos and Mr. C. Crispin the bass solo. After the hymn "O Thou who makest souls to shine" came the sermon by the Bishop.

His Lordship took as his text the words "Not by might nor by power, but by my spirit, saith the Lord of Hosts" (Zechariah iv., 6). He expressed the hope that the lesson taught by this text would be taken to heart here in Hongkong and in all that great diocese in the south of China. He wanted them to remember that their work must be done if it was to be done successfully, not by might, nor by power, but by the spirit of God himself. They had here their "golden candlestick." Some might say it was not so perfect as it might be, and indeed few human institutions were perfect. Few institutions on earth were without their shortcomings and blemishes. Still they had their "candlestick" here with its various branches. They had the work in the colony; they had the work among the military; they had the men appointed to work among their sailors, both in the navy and in the mercantile marine; they had their schools; they had their Christian institutions, and last but not least they had their organisation for carrying on missionary work and spreading the gospel among the heathen, for let them remember that the one great object of a "candlestick" was to give light, and no church was doing its work if it was not shedding forth the light of the gospel amongst the mass of those who as yet know it not. If they wanted their work to go forward let them remember it must be done not by reliance on human might, not by reliance on human power, not by reliance on human ability, not by reliance upon organisation. What they wanted was not only the "candlestick" but God's holy spirit, and he would leave with them this one message—he would ask them to pray, and to pray continually, that as God had given them that golden candlestick, as he had called them in his infinite mercy to be members of his church, he would pour upon that place and upon all their brethren, whether European or native, his most holy spirit.

During the singing of the hymn "Disposer Supreme" a collection was made in aid of the Cathedral funds. The Bishop received and presented the offerings, and gave the Benediction from the altar. After the Benediction the choir sang Stainer's Sevenfold Amen.

REVIEWS.

The History of the Laws and Courts of Hongkong. Tracing Consular Jurisdiction in China and Japan and including Parliamentary Debates, and the Rise, Progress, and Successive Changes in the Various Public Institutions of the Colony from the Earliest Period to the Present Time. With Illustrations. By WILLIAM NORTON-KYSHE, of Lincoln's Inn, Esquire, Barrister-at-Law, Registrar of the Supreme Court of Hongkong. In two volumes. London: T. Fisher Unwin. Hongkong: Noronha & Co. 1898.

MR. NORTON KYSHE'S history is a great deal less dry than its title might suggest. In fact it is extremely interesting, as well as useful. Any old resident who commences to turn over its pages casually will soon find himself absorbed in reading accounts of episodes that have in former years excited his interest but have probably been long forgotten, while to those who for business or professional reasons require to make themselves acquainted with the history of the colony it will prove an invaluable mine of information, the exploitation of which is facilitated by a full index. As an illustration of the practical value of the work we may mention the complete accounts of the land questions that have arisen from time to time, including the recent change to the short lease system. Mr. Chamberlain's despatch on this subject, dated 23rd May, 1898, which has not previously been published, is given.

"Leases for 999 years," says the Secretary of State, "are practically equivalent to a freehold tenure, and the grant of such leases deprives the Government of all control over the land of the colony, and of all advantage of any future enhanced value of the land." Future leases are therefore to be "for periods not exceeding seventy-five, or at the outside ninety-nine years, with suitable provision to meet the objection raised by the Land Commission of 1886-7, viz.: that the Crown should not at the expiration of the lease confiscate the whole value of the tenant's improvements."

Amongst other important subjects brought up to date is that of the Kowloon concession. In this connection Mr. Norton-Kyshe says that the principle of extending the somewhat confined area of the colony on the Kowloon side of the harbour had been for a considerable time recognised as just and reasonable, that Sir Nicholas O'Conor, when Minister in China, personally took the matter in hand, and, "it is said," a convention was actually drawn up and agreed to, extending the colony to a line to be drawn from Deep Bay to Mirs Bay, but that at the urgent solicitation of the Chinese Embassy in England the matter was postponed pending the completion of the treaty with Japan. We should like to know the precise facts of Sir Nicholas O'Conor's reported convention. Mr. Norton-Kyshe, it will be observed, does not pledge himself to the statement that such a Convention was actually made, but uses the term "it is said."

The more important and interesting of the trials that have taken place in the Supreme Court naturally occupy a prominent place in Mr. Norton-Kyshe's work and in connection with Witchell's case an account of the bribery scandal is given. The author confines himself to a statement of recorded facts without comment on the procedure adopted in regard to the public servants who were dismissed without regular trial, his official position no doubt imposing reticence upon him in reference to events of such recent occurrence. The corruption which prevailed in the police force in the earlier days of the colony is also recorded in its proper place.

We have heard an objection made to the book on the ground that it is devoted too much to the raking up of old scandals. As a question of good manners no doubt scandal is to be eschewed, but there is a distinction between private scandals and public scandals. It is well that the latter should not be allowed to sink into oblivion, for they serve as a warning and prevent the growth of an unduly self-righteous spirit. Also, it must be confessed, they make, for many people, very attractive reading. In these piping times of peace, when the officials form a happy little circle and are treated by the civil community with becoming deference and respect, when table conversation turns mainly on the day's amusements and public writers experience difficulty in finding topics of interest, it seems difficult to believe that we are separated by only a few years from the time when Sir E. B. Lytton, speaking in the House of Commons as Secretary of State for the Colonies, said that in certain papers that had been sent home he discovered "hatred, malice, and all uncharitableness in every possible variety of aspect, and consequently what might be considered a description of official life in the colony;" when the Times in an article on Hongkong affairs said that "the newspaper proprietors were all more or less in prison, or going to prison, or coming out of prison, on prosecutions of some one or more of the incriminated officials, and the Chief Justice was trying an action against the Governor," and when Mr. Anstey, the Attorney-General, speaking in the Supreme Court, compared Hongkong to "a petty colony cram full of abuses and oppression, but no man would speak out because there was no community of feeling of wrong; there was mutual distrust, there was no Government, there was no society, for Government there was anarchy and for society cætus latronum." A great part of the book is taken up with the doings of that same Mr. Anstey, that brilliant meteor in whom fancy and imagination usurped the place of judgment and who only failed of achieving greatness by lack of a little common sense and prudence; his honesty and genius were beyond question. In truth Hongkong affairs were in those days, as they were officially described, a "mass of mud." Things have improved a good deal since then, but probably there is still a good deal of mud, only the energy or will to stir it up is lacking.

The way to read Mr. Norton-Kyshe's book is to begin with the index and refer back to the references that attract the attention of the individual reader. No one will fail to find an abundance of such. In one department, however, the author has not exhibited his usual research. We refer to ecclesiastical affairs. These would appropriately have fallen under the sub-title of the book, "the various public institutions of the colony," and it would have been convenient to have had a correct legal statement of the changes that have been effected in the position of the Church of England in the colony and in the status of the Bishop and Chaplain. The entries under the heading of "Church" are few, but one of them at once attracts attention, namely, "Extraordinary conduct of the Rev. W. Baxter." We accordingly turn to pp. 351-2 of vol. 1 to see what Mr. Baxter's extraordinary conduct was, and we there find that this conduct was, and we there find that this Baxter, formerly Rector of Fyfield, having effected an exchange of livings with the Rev. Mr. Stedman, Colonial Chaplain in Hongkong, arrived in the colony on the 3rd August, 1874. Mr. Melville Portal, member for North Hants, Mr. Baxter had left for the scene of his after Mr. Baxter had left for the scene of his labours, rose in the House of Commons to call the attention of the Government to matters affecting the church, as referred to in a petition entrusted to him by certain inhabitants of the parish of Fyfield. Mr. Baxter, it appeared, had suddenly absconded on a Sunday, after morning service, deeply in debt to most of the tradesmen in the neighbourhood and carrying with him certain parish funds and charitable monies which were in his charge. He had previously made an assignment of his effects for the benefit of his creditors. His parishioners heard nothing of him until they saw it announced that he had been appointed civil chaplain at Hongkong. Mr. F. Peel, Under Secretary for the Colonies, in reply to Mr. Portal said that when application was made to the Colonial Office to sanction the exchange of appointments between Mr. Stedman and Mr. Baxter the Duke of Newcastle took the usual course in such cases by addressing a letter of enquiry to the Bishop of Winchester. The correspondence was read, the Bishop's letter containing the following passage:—"The Rev. Mr. Baxter, Rector of Fyfield, is highly respectable and, as far as I am aware, well qualified to perform the duties of a Colonial Chaplaincy efficiently." The reading of this passage naturally caused laughter in the House. In the meantime, pending the reply of Mr. Baxter to the serious charges brought against him, the Bishop of Victoria refused to license him or to allow him to officiate in S. John's Cathedral. The upshot was that Mr. Baxter was called upon to resign his appointment and he left with his family for Melbourne.

We are rather surprised that the author should have deemed it necessary to give a certificate of good character to the legal profession in the colony. This occurs after a reference to the case of the notorious Webber. "In fairness to the legal profession in the Colony, says Mr. Norton-Kyshe, "it is due to those members in practice at the present time to say that in no part of the British dominions perhaps does there exist a more honourable body of gentlemen than themselves. A black sheep at distant intervals since the foundation of the colony, as has been recorded, may have gone astray, but otherwise there is nothing to be found from the mouths of the highest judicial authorities themselves but the greatest encomiums in favour of both branches of the profession. Such an instance is probably unique in the annals of any colony, and in recording his own experience of colonial barristers, attorneys, or solicitors in other parts of the Empire where he has himself served, it is the author's opinion that the colony may well be proud of its legal practitioners, a matter of congratulation both to the Bench and the numerous suitors who daily seek justice at the hands the of Bench, the Bar, the solicitors, and the officers, of the Court." We should say there is nothing at all unique about the legal profession in Hongkong, as regards character, the gentlemen belonging to it being simply a fair average sample of the profession at large, whether in England or the colonies, at least, for the sake of the Empire and the profession, it is to be hoped so.

In the work before us there are expressions of opinion on men and things that may form the subject of controversy, but as a record of facts, a concise compendium of the political history of the colony, it is deserving of the highest praise, and amply justifies the quotation from a legal decision given as a motto on the fly page of each volume, namely, "A collection of records may be the result of professional knowledge, research, and skill, just as a collection of curiosities is the result of the skill and knowledge of the antiquarian or virtuoso." In his preface the author justly remarks that it is not astonishing, situated as is Hongkong, with a population recruited almost from the dregs of society, that enormous difficulties should have been experienced from the very outset in establishing a proper form of government in the colony, tentative measures being introduced to be only shortly after modified or rejected," and the reader is invited to "draw his own conclusion from that 'mass of mud' in reference to which the Duke of Newcastle showed so much anxiety at the time." That conclusion will probably be the same as that at which Mr. Norton-Kyshe arrives in his closing chapter, namely, that "Even with a knowledge of British enterprise, it would be a tax upon one's credulity to believe that, within the comparatively short space of time which has elapsed since Hongkong was incorporated within the British dominions, such rapid strides in development could have taken place. All this is but the result of British energy, British enterprise, and English law, accomplished under the benign rule of Her Most Gracious Majesty, Queen Victoria, of whose possessions Hongkong, founded in Her own time, now stands prominently forward as one of the finest pearls in the British Crown."

The work is inscribed to Sir John Worrell Carrington, Chief Justice, and an excellent portrait of His Honour is given as the frontispiece to the first volume, the frontispiece to the second volume being a portrait of the late Sir John Smale. Other portraits of celebrities are given in the body of the work. In the appendices are given lists of those who have held the offices of Chief Justice, Puisne Judges, Attorney-General, and Crown Solicitor, and, the rolls of barristers and solicitors.

Romance of a Midshipman. By W. CLARK RUSSELL. London: T. Fisher Unwin. 1898.

ADMIRERS of Clark Russell will be pleased to welcome another tale from his able pen, and in "The Romance of a Midshipman" they will not be disappointed in their expectations. In the opening chapters we have a picture of life in the French town of Bonville, where the hero, an English boy, was born. He arrives at an age to be sent to school and in due time runs away and is brought back, the circumstances being both humorous and pathetic. Then he goes to sea as a midshipman in a merchant vessel, and the main interest of the tale centres in a voyage made when he had attained the position of third mate on the Australian liner Glendower. Amongst the passengers is a young lady with whom Walter Longmore, as the hero is called, was previously acquainted and with whom he naturally falls in love. On the voyage a succession of extraordinary adventures occurs. A strange derelict is met with for the abandonment of which there appeared at first no explanation, but on closer examination it was found that she had been carrying a cargo of wild beasts, and a lion having broken loose and taken charge, the crew had presumably left in the boats. After that the great sea serpent is seen. Then the Glendower is wrecked on the Rocas, off the Brazilian coast, with much loss of life. Longmore and Bolle Stwart, however, reach the shore, with a few of the sailors, and as neither the sailors nor the lovers desire each other's company they divide into two parties. Longmore and the girl setting off in one boat, while the sailors remain on the rocks to follow at their leisure after they have ransacked the passengers' luggage for valuables. Longmore intends to make for the coast, but on the way a wonderful floating island is sighted and has to be investigated, with the result that while the young people are ashore their boat breaks adrift and they find themselves marooned. How they afterwards reach civilisation again we must leave the reader to find out for himself. The book is interesting and exciting from beginning to end and is everything that a sea tale should be.

Mr. Clark Russell's sympathies do not appear to lie with the shipowner. The following is his description of the owner of the Glendower:—"Mr. Burton, the owner, was a great fat jolly man, who died, soon after the loss of his ship, worth about two millions. He was a shipowner of the old sort; his vessels belonged to him; he was not a company. He took a paternal interest in his craft, many of which were fine, noble ships, all sailing out of the Thames, and he starved his seamen on the Famine Scale of 1844. But he gave them rum. The managing owner of to-day starves them still, and denies them rum, but as his seamen are

THE magnificent TWIN-SCREW STEAMSHIPS of this Line pass through the famous INLAND SEA of JAPAN, and usually make the voyage YOKOHAMA to VANCOUVER in 13 DAYS, saving THREE DAYS to a WEEK in the Trans-Pacific journey and make connection at Vancouver with the PALATIAL TRANS-CONTINENTAL TRAINS of the CANADIAN PACIFIC RAILWAY, which leave daily, and cross the Continent FROM THE PACIFIC TO THE ATLANTIC WITHOUT CHANGE. Close connection is made at Montreal, Quebec, Halifax, New York and Boston with all Trans-Atlantic Lines, which passengers to Great Britain and the Continent are given choice of.

Passengers Booked through to all principal points and AROUND THE WORLD. Return tickets to various points at reduced rates, Good for 4, 6, 9, and 12 months.

SPECIAL RATES (First class only) granted to Missionaries, Members of the Naval, Military, Diplomatic, and Civil Services, and to European Officials in the Service of China and Japan Governments.

The attractive features of this Company's route embrace its PALATIAL STEAMSHIPS (second to none in the World), the LUXURIANCE OF ITS TRANS-CONTINENTAL TRAINS (the Company having received the highest award for same at recent Chicago World's Exhibition), and the diversity of MAGNIFICENT MOUNTAIN AND LAKE SCENERY through which the Railway passes.

THE DINING CARS and MOUNTAIN HOTELS of this route are owned and operated by the Company, and their appointments and Cuisine are unexcelled.
